Panthers in London
Recommendation Form

To be completed by a Georgia State University faculty member or business professional.

Dear Reference,
The Panther in London program is for Georgia State University J. Mack Robinson College of Business students who are passionate about pursuing a business career in London. This program is designed to immerse our most promising students in the culture and practices of the world's leading financial center alongside New York City. This annual program typically includes 8-10 undergraduate and master's Robinson College of Business students.

Coordinated through the Robinson College’s Career Advancement Center in partnership with the departments of accounting, actuarial science, business economics, computer information systems, finance, hospitality, marketing, managerial science, and risk management and insurance, we are proud to re-introduce Panthers in London. The fourth annual trip to London will include a unique blend of career and leadership development for a select group of Robinson’s undergraduate and master’s students.

Features & Benefits
Panthers in London provides students with a comprehensive and coordinated program that includes:

• Focused professional development training sessions
• Unique London experience
• Business networking events in Atlanta and London
• Enhanced employment opportunities
• Relationship-building with fellow students and alumni
• Individual career counseling
• A visit to Oxford University

Purpose of Recommendation
In order to be considered, applicants must submit an application that includes:

1. A curriculum vitae (CV)
2. An essay outlining their interest in London
3. A recommendation (from a faculty member or a business professional)

The selection committee considers the recommendation to be a key component of the application, and we appreciate your willingness to provide feedback.
